Dear Folks,

Just a line to let you know that I am fine. As yet I haven't heard from any of you yet but my mail isn't catching up with me very fast.

I did receive a letter from Gloria last night and she wasn't feeling any too well. I sure do worry about her. I will sure be glad when I can get home to take care of her myself although I know she is in the best of hands. But I sure do miss her.

Well I went to London on a pass and looked over the city. There were plenty of women there but I didn't bother with any of them because I already have one that I think too much of to go out with any others. I will have to sign off for now.

Dear Folks,

Just a line or two before I go to bed to let you know that I am fine. We visited London again while on pass. There isn't much to do there but it seems good to just get away from the old routine for awhile. I was expecting some mail when I came back but I didn't get one letter. So far I haven't had any mail sent to this address so I guess it is still getting mixed up somewhere. Well I still have hopes that it will start coming in soon. I received a letter from Gloria three days ago and she says that she would probably be down to visit with you soon. I sure do wish that I was where she could come to visit me every once in awhile. But I guess that I will just have to wait until this is all over and we can all
